“The Transformational Coaching Program has been a catalyst for change in my life. I came into it with 20+ years of leadership experience and I have learned more through this program than I have in many others of my master level classes. I am a much better leader and coach because of this program. Micki McMillan and Pat Barlow’s knowledge and expertise lends credibility to their teaching and the curriculum. Not only are they knowledgeable but also they have great respect for the work they do and a fantastic job representing the ICF.”

~Kim Chamberlin - VP, Patient Services

“This program was truly a transformation for me. Prior to this program I had not been as vocal and the Transformational Coaching Program created a self-awareness, confidence, and support to allow me to speak up more.

My life was enriched spiritually, mentally, & physically throughout this program. These changes helped me become a better person, which makes me a better coach for clients. I don’t think there could be anything better than going through a coach-training program with Blue Mesa Group. - I’ve known colleagues that have gone through university coaching programs and I believe they are missing out on what Blue Mesa Group has to offer.”

~Toni Green- Vice President Diversity & Inclusion

“The Transformational Coaching Program is tried and true based in research, history, and facilitated by masterful coaches. The structure and foundation that Blue Mesa Group provides allows you to stand strong in your coach training. The network and level of graduates is second to none when it comes to coach training programs. If you want a transformative coach-training program, I highly recommend the Transformational Coaching Program by Blue Mesa Group.” ~Carmen DeHart, University of Missouri - Director of the Office of Research and Economic Development

“I’ve been in nurse leadership positions for over 30 years and I been through many leadership courses. This program changed my life. It afforded me the opportunity to discover and practice new ways of being as a leader. I was able to tap into my own inner knowledge that influenced my leadership. I unconditionally recommend the Transformational Coaching Program because it helped me be a better me. This occurred through the knowledge I gained, the community of support, and it connected me to a passion. If you want to talk with a past participant I would be happy to speak to you about the TCP.” ~Tricia Thomas, PhD., RN - Director, Nursing Practice and Research

“Blue Mesa Group Transformational Coaching Program (TCP) provides rigor and support. Although the goal is to help clients achieve their desires, the methodology goes beyond goal attainment. The TCP is about what people achieve AND who they become through the process. It is truly transformational. As a coach this approach has improved my coaching skills and my clients have benefited greatly. As a consultant, I have been able to transfer the skills in other parts of my work. ~Karen Pinkney, Organizational Development Consultant

“I do believe that the T in the Transformational Coaching Program is real. This is a program that helps me learn how to assist others and while I was in the program I experienced my own significant development. The methods of learning through the on-site experiences, masterful coaching feedback, mentor coaching and practice places you on the path of change. The content of the curriculum is extremely rich and calls you to reflect not only about how you coach but who you are and what you are and how you show up. If you have the opportunity to go through the program and you didn’t it would be the worst mistake you probably didn’t even know you made. Micki McMillan and Pat Barlow’s approach is thoughtful, respectful and yet direct. If you have the opportunity to work with them you should.” ~Amy Berentes - VP, Patient Care Services
